CITY TO HOUSE CLINICS
Health Department Buildings to Be Used Exclusively for Visitor.

HIS SPIRITS REVIVING Will Stay Here Indefinitely if He Finds Himself Able to Meet Schedule.

Dr. Adolf Lorenz will hold all his local clinics at the Health Department Building after this week. It was announced yesterday after a conference of Dr.
Lorenz and Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner, and a dozen orthopedic surgeons, who have been seeking to permit the surgeon to continue his work without embarrassment.

Clinics will be held at the Health Department Building in Pearl street, near Centre street, in Manhattan, at 10 o'clock on Monday and Friday mornings, and at the building in Brooklyn on Wednesday morning. Dr. Lorenz will hold a clinic this afternoon at St.
Mark's Hospital, but the one scheduled for Monday morning at the Hospital for Joint Diseases has been abandoned.

"Every applicant, according to these plans," said Dr. Copeland, "will be able to see Dr. Lorenz personally. By holding only three clinics a week it is believed his health will be conserved, his labor lightened, and at the same time he will be able to render service to all."

At the conference in Dr. Copeland's office were Dr. Frank J. Monaghan, Dr.
Charles Dwight Napier, Dr. Henry W.
Frauenthal, Dr. Franklin B. Van Wart, Dr. P. J. Gibbons, Dr. Walter H. Conley, Dr. Frederick H. Albee, Dr. Dexter D.
Ashley, Dr. Jacob Sobel, Dr. Anson H.
Bingham, Dr. Carl Keppeler, Dr. Henry G. MacAdam and Bird S. Coler, Commissioner of Public Welfare.

Dr. Lorenz appeared in much better spirits than on Wednesday, when he announced that he intended to return to Vienna soon. He said the schedule arranged for him was satisfactory and that he might remain indefinitely.

After he had finished three private operations in the morning, Dr. Lorenz went sightseeing, beginning with a visit to the tower of the Woolworth Building.
He was on the narrow balcony of the fifty-eighth floor looking out at the city when a man leaning a hobbling little boy touched his arm.

The man explained that he was J. S.
Scanlon of Youngstown and that he had brought his son Jack, who is 7, to see Dr. Lorenz, but he had been unable to make an appointment.

"I just got a telegram saying my wife is sick," said Scanlon, "and she is going back this afternoon. I decided to bring the boy up here and I recognized you from your pictures."

Dr. Lorenz took the boy by the hand and together they went down to the fifty-fourth floor and set up an improvised clinic.

"Get the boy a lighter bag," said Dr. Lorenz to the father. "Continue the massage treatment and exercises and he will be all right."

Dr. Lorenz visited the Newark Academy of Medicine at night and spoke to 20 surgeons from Newark and other parts of Northern New Jersey. The New Jersey surgeons had a friendly welcome for the visitor and listened with interest while he explained his methods of treating irreducible cases of congenital hip dislocation. Dr. Lorenz has agreed to hold a clinic at Newark on December 22.

FREIGHT CAR ROBBERS GET HEAVY PENALTIES
26 Years and $18,500 Fines Imposed on Four Men.

Four men convicted of stealing woolens valued at $100,000 from a freight car at Soho, N. J., May 24 were sentenced yesterday by Judge William C. Van Fleet in the United States District Court. The terms totalled more than twenty-six years and the fines $18,500. The sentences were: Nathan Zimmerman, storage warehouse proprietor, Elder avenue and 125th street, The Bronx, twelve years and $11,000 fine; Matty Donovan, cafe proprietor, Thirteenth avenue and Twenty-fourth street, ten years and $7,500 fine; John Barron, Erie freight conductor, four years at Atlanta; Dominick Luch, six months in Essex county jail.

Luch was a porter in Donovan's saloon, to which, it was alleged, the wool was moved after it had been taken from the freight car and stored for a time in Zimmerman's warehouse. Barron had been in Erie Railroad service twenty years. Garrett W. Cuddy, Assistant United States District Attorney, conducted the prosecution.

William F. Morgan, head of the Free Dispensary for the Sick, founded by the late Mrs. James Speyer, will be held in the Waldorf-Astoria from December 13 to 17. The sale will be open during the afternoons and evenings. Articles appropriate for Christmas gifts have been contributed, among them a diamond brooch, donated by Mr. Speyer.

The committee includes Mrs. Lewis Gouverneur Moore, Mrs. Edward Weil, Mrs. Phillips Allen Clark, Mrs. Irene Castle, Mrs. C. Shindler, Mrs. William Ketcham, Mrs. Julius Day, Miss Mary Young, Mrs. Reginald Furman and Mrs.

BAYVILLE BOY IN BIG CITY LOSES FAMILY HEIRLOOMS Falls Among Obliging Strangers in Chinatown and Woman Vanishes With Valuable Rings, but a Man Is Arrested on Robbery Charge.

Peter Howard, 29, a waiter, of 1636

First avenue, was arraigned yesterday before Magistrate John McGeehan in the Jefferson Market Court and held in $2,500 bail, charged with receiving stolen goods by taking four rings, valued at $1,500, from Robert Stuart, Jr., 13 years old, of Bayville avenue, Bayville, L. I.

The police are also searching for a woman who is said to have taken from the boy two rings valued at about $500.

The Stuart boy told the police that he became tired of the unexciting life he had been leading in Bayville and came to New York on September 19 to see if the big city was like the book said it was. To finance his sightseeing he brought with him all of the family jewels and heirlooms he could find, the total being valued at about $8,000.

He said he stopped at the Ansonia Hotel for two days and then went to the Marlborough, further down Broadway. That same night he went down to Chinatown on a bus and met Howard, and later Howard introduced him to the woman. Robert told the police he thought she was a very nice lady, and when she said how badly she wanted some rings he felt that the least he could do would be to lend her some. So he gave her two, he said, one a platinum ring set with a diamond and the other a small ring bearing the crest of his family. She left at once, he said, and he has not seen her since.

Robert took Howard to his room in the hotel and showed the jewelry to him.
Howard offered to raise some money on it. So Robert gave up four rings valued at $1,500, he told the police, and Howard went away to get the money. But he did not return. Three days later Robert Stuart, Sr., the boy's father, received an anonymous letter saying that his son was in New York with a lot of jewelry and ought to be cared for. The letter also enclosed pawn tickets for two of the rings that Robert said he gave to Howard.

Mr. Stuart came at once to New York and got his son and notified the police to look for Howard and the woman.

They have been searching for Howard ever since, but it was not until recently that he returned to the First avenue address. The police hunter gives Bay-ville as the home of the Stuart family, but Mr. Stuart could not be located there last night.

ROBBER GETS $525 HOLDING UP GIRL
In Pursuit Man With Alleged Long Criminal Record Is Taken.

A man seized Miss Anna Ziff, bookkeeper for the American Cakes Company, 3 Brunswick street, Jersey City, yesterday at Bates and Grand streets, Jersey City, and snatched a package containing $525, which she was taking to the bank.

The girl raised outcry, and in the pursuit that followed, a man was chased into an alley and caught as he was going over a fence. He said he was Charles White. The police asserted that he had a police record dating back to 1899.

Two young men accused by White of having planned the attack on Miss Ziff were arrested last night. They were William Greenhorn of 419 York street and William Newhouse, 391 Grand street, Jersey City. Greenhorn was said to have been a former employee of the American Cakes Company.

Two shots were fired yesterday by Detective Norcott of the Fifth inspection district in pursuit of a man who it was alleged, attempted to drive off with the automobile of Lawrence Kinsella, which had been left in front of Mr. Kinsella's home, 117 West 120th street.

Detective Norcott, who was near by, took up the chase. The man stopped as the shots whizzed close to him. The prisoner said he was Bernard Fay of 1726 Lexington avenue. He was held in $2,500 bail in Washington Heights Court on a charge of attempted grand larceny.

Poor cases of larceny, valued at $2,500, which were stolen from an East River pier of the New England Steamship Company, were found yesterday in a maiden lane loft, according to detectives who arrested Benjamin Marcus, 20 Forsyth street, and Hyman Gold, 103 Hester street, on charges of attempting to dispose of the goods. The defendants were held in $2,500 bail each in Tombs Court.

Detectives who rushed to the dress goods store of Morris Knabatsnik, 1365 Madison avenue, yesterday morning when a burglar alarm sounded said they found four bags filled with women's apparel valued at $1,500 in the cellar and that a hole had been cut through the store flooring by the burglars to gain entrance. A cap was found near the bags. Later the police arrested Solomon Peck, 16, of 82 East 110th street, said to have been found hatless, and Samuel Harowitz, 19, of 114 East 112th street. The youths were held in Harlem Court on suspicion of burglary in $2,000 bail each.

SAYS POLYCLINIC MIGHT BE CLEANER

American Legion Finds Condition of Hospital Shows Poor Housekeeping.

The American Legion will make public this afternoon at its headquarters in the Hall of Records a report on the condition of the Polyclinic Hospital, as a result of a survey of the entire building, conducted yesterday by a sub-committee of its State committee on hospitalization.

At the same time four physicians will be selected by the State committee to continue the inquiry by examining various types of patients with a view to finding out whether proper treatment has been prescribed and carried out.

Col. C. W. Wickesham, Col. Frank L.
Robbins and former Representative Charles Cauldwell, members of the subcommittee, accompanied by William F.
Deegan, State Commander of the American Legion, spent several hours inspecting the hospital, but refused to express any opinion upon their observations until the official report had been made.

Among the many recent investigations to which the hospital has been subjected since the accusations of the Amateur Comedy Club called attention to conditions in the building was that of the Veterans Bureau of Washington, which was conducted by Dr. J. D. Long, medical adviser.

Dr. Long has left for Washington to make his report, but it has been learned that the principal criticism to be levelled against the hospital authorities is that they have been guilty of poor housekeeping and allowing conditions of uncleanliness to exist in a building which at best is said to be none too suitable for modern hospital purposes.

Commander Deegan stated that the entire State committee would meet this afternoon, and in addition to receiving the Polyclinic report would consider some action by which the Government might be persuaded to appropriate more money for the purchase or erection of suitable hospitals in which to care for the disabled men.

He said $18,000,000 had been appropriated by the Government for this purpose a year and a half ago, and with the exception of the purchase of a hospital in Brooklyn, New York, had received no share of these funds.

END OF MILK STRIKE SEEN BY LA GUARDIA Sees Both Sides and Hopes for Early Settlement.

F. H. La Guardia, President of the Board of Aldermen, said yesterday he had been in conference with representatives of both union and milk distribu-ters and hoped to bring about a speedy settlement of the strike which has been dragging on since November 1.

"Investigation," said Mr. La Guardia, "has shown me that the situation is not as black as it has been painted. I think the principal trouble is a difference of mental attitudes between workers and distributors. I am extremely optimistic."

A meeting of this committee, which is headed by Mr. La Guardia, was postponed from yesterday afternoon to 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Aldermanic chamber.

HYLAN OPPOSES THIRD PARTY IN PIER LEASES
Assignment Request Denied by Sinking Fund Board.

Mayer Hyman and Comptroller Craig put themselves on record yesterday as being opposed to any dock leases, original or transferred, where any third party is involved.

The Sinking Fund Commission denied without prejudice as to renewal the application of the Quebec Steamship Company to assign to the Richmond and New York Steamship Company their lease of pier 47, North River, at an annual rental of $25,000 a year. S. A. Oyen, manager of the Richmond company, said the only other person interested was Joseph P. Day, real estate man, to whom they had promised to give 34 percent of the first year's rental as a commission for negotiating the lease.

Mr. Day on his return from Washington last night said he had known nothing of the transaction, but had learned that his industrial department had been at work negotiating for the transfer of the lease.

VERY EARLY PLATE

| Charles I, 1625 to 1649    | Queen Anne, 1702 to 1714       |
| Commonwealth, 1649 to 1660 | George II, 1727 to 1760        |

Collectors will at once recognize these pieces as types and specimens that are to be seen in fine old English homes and in the British and South Kensington Museums, but in our own country mainly in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, which is setting a pace for ambitious curators, even in the old world.

There is no uncertainty about the dates. There cannot be.
Are not the marks of every maker and period in England, from the 15th century, set down duly at Goldsmith's Hall in London?

Some Examples of the Collection

ELIZABETHAN TAZZA
Made in 1560, similar to one illustrated in Jackson's "History of English Plate" (page 696), embossed in the center of its shallow bowl with the bust of a soldier of the period.

ELIZABETHAN RHENISH STONEWARE JUG
Made in 1567; with silver gilt mountings, chased with flowers and fruit.

JAMES I BEAKER
Made in 1618, when the style remained distinctly Elizabethan. This piece is embellished with engraved scroll work.

CHARLES I TANKARD
With flat top cover (town mark Lincoln). During the stormy days of Charles I nothing more than necessary appointments and presentation pieces were made, and these only for the plainest character. Maker's mark referred to in Jackson's "English Goldsmiths and Their Marks," page 421.

COMMONWEALTH TANKARD
With flat top and "skirt" foot, made in 1659 during the Commonwealth period, when little or no ornamentation was applied to silver, although the pieces were always of heavy weight.
Collectors are always keen about possessing Commonwealth plate, because it is extremely rare.

QUEEN ANNE TEA CADDY
Made in 1746 by Paul de Lamerie, probably more widely known than any other silversmith of this period. The caddy is elaborately chased with pagodas, flowers, etc., in the style of Chinese Chippendale.

GEORGE II ROSE-WATER EWER With applied strap decoration and chased scroll handle, surmounted by female bust. Dated 1746. Maker, Paul Crespin.

QUEEN ANNE WINE CISTERN
Made by David Williams, a name well known among collectors, in 1710.
A superb oval specimen, engraved with the arms of the Duke of Leeds, with boldly gadrooned borders, gryphons' heads on the handles, and cornets surmounting swinging rings.

WILLIAM AND MARY SCOTCH TANKARD
Also illustrated in Jackson's History, Vol. II, page 768, made in the year 1695, by James Cockburne, of Edinburgh.

RESTORATION CUP WITH COVER
Made in 1668, chased in repousse with scrolls and leaves to form grotesque masks, in the manner of Van Vianen of Utrecht; King Charles II returned to England thoroughly imbued with the spirit of French and Dutch silversmiths, whose work influenced London smiths.

This particular cup is illustrated and described in Jackson's "History of English Plate," page 253.

the appetite—just the sight of it—as much as May breezes and spring perfumes.

For who wouldn't be hungry for a dejeuner off one of these sets of French, English or Japanese china, so beautifully decorated? With muffin dish and cover, egg cup, complete coffee service, cereal dish and all, just ready to pop the hot food into?

Here's one in a baby blue with bands of silver—delicious.
Another in roses and bright green bands, the very essence of spring-time.
Another in shell-pink with silver—one in bands of brilliant Sorrento blue—one in gay Christmasy red, if you like.
$10 to $50.

fills several large tables with its bright, warm, butter-yellow tone and its three gay different designs—

- the birds, water fowl and barnyard birds, with gay feathers and swirling tails—
- the saucy sprig of pine—
- the pine with little blue and red flowers.

One may have the bird designs in four sizes of plates, dinner, soup, tea and bread-and-butter, $12 and $18 a dozen.

The pine brush pattern comes on plates in four sizes at $10 and $15 a dozen and in separate pieces, such as four sizes of gay scalloped bowls—little nut or porridge bowls up to big bowls for salad—$1 to $5.

And the pine brush design with the red and blue flowers is claimed by delightful tea-sets, tea-pot, cream-jug, sugar-bowl and six cups and saucers. $15 the set.

Hexagonal Tables
of solid walnut, with pedestal and three-foot bases, are delightful for the library or reading room.
Their original—from which they have been reproduced—was a taken from the Davanzati collection shown in the American Art Galleries a few years ago. These are faithful reproductions at the small price of $80 each.

The Star Table
is round, with a shelf and a star design inlaid in its top, which gives it its name. Of cherry, with a dull finish, it is an ideal table for a lamp. $60
each.

Little English Tables are reproductions of a Jacobean design in oak, with four straight stretchers and ball-turned legs.

PLANNED. Fabrics are the kind best adapted to large men's wear—worsted. Colors, too—mostly the darker shades of gray, blue and brown, with some hair-lines and fancy mixtures. Style is the one most becoming to large men—conservative 3-button model. Coats are full-lined with alpaca.
Tailoring is as specified by us. This is one time when a big man may walk into a clothing store, be sure of finding a suit to fit, and save money.
